Dr. Francis E. Fronczak

Dr. Fronczak was born in Buffalo on September 20, 1874 of Polish immigrant parents and died on December 27, 1955. He was reared in a dual cultural environment. Upon graduation from Canisius College he studied medicine and law at the University of Buffalo and jurisprudence at the Jagiellonian University of Cracow, Poland.

Entering private practice as a physician at the age of 22, in the succeeding years he assumed various government medical positions, eventually being named Health Commissioner of the City of Buffalo, a post he held for 37 years. As a physician he advocated a law recognizing alcoholism as an illness, not a crime; he campaigned for the vaccination of children against smallpox; he recommended protective measures for people with communicable diseases, such as tuberculosis; he set sanitation standards for the community. He published and presented scores of papers on medicine. Dr. Fronczak was the official U. S. representative at many international congresses on medicine.

As a highly educated citizen of the community, Dr. Fronczak also took part in Polish community life by being a reporter for English language newspapers, and later, on the editorial staff of Polak w Ameryce. He was in demand as a speaker. As early as 1900 he represented his Alma Mater as a delegate to the 500th anniversary of the Jagiellonian University.

His acquaintance, and later, friendship with Maestro Paderewski, led to his deeper involvement in Polish matters. Dr. Fronczak took part in relief activities, directed by Mr. Paderewski, for Polish victims of war. He was asked to present a memorandum to President Woodrow Wilson for intervention on behalf of Poland's independence. In 1918 Dr. Fronczak was appointed to the Polish National Committee in Paris as a representative of American Poles, and, as a Major in the American Medical Corps, he was responsible for the physical and moral well being of the Polish Army in France. He fought in the trenches in Poland where he was wounded. After the end of the war he was part of the American Red Cross Mission doing relief work in Poland, and again after the Second World War as a Department of State officer for the UN Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. For his services he received medals and decorations from the United States and many European Countries, including the Vatican.
Foreword

The Monroe Fordham Regional History Center was established at Buffalo State College by Dr. Muriel A. Howard, President, in April 2001. Its mission is to deepen the understanding of the richness of the history of the Buffalo/Niagara region. One way in which this mission can be sustained is through collaboration with vital community groups such as E. H. Butler Library, Buffalo State College to make priceless collections of historical papers accessible to scholars and interested citizens alike. This cooperative venture is a modest contribution toward that end. One of the community resources is the Fronczak Papers, a generous gift of Dr. Eugenia Fronczak Bukowska to E.H. Butler Library, Buffalo State College. This Index and Introduction to the Francis E. Fronczak, M.D., Papers is recognition of the significance of Polonia in the Western New York. The original inventory of the papers was done by then college archivist, Sister Martin Joseph Jones who published a guide, The Francis E. Fronczak Collection, in 1976. The present undertaking is a refinement and update of that pioneering work of Sister Martin.

Preface

Through the efforts of Dr. Walter M. Drzewieniecki, then Director of the East European and Slavic Studies Program, and the cooperation of Dr. Lucian Palmieri, then Director of E. H. Butler Library, Dr. Eugenia Fronczak-Bukowski donated her father's papers and memorabilia to E. H. Butler Library. These included personal and official correspondence, medical records pertaining to his 40 years' service as Health Commissioner of the City of Buffalo, military records, official reports of his service with the Polish National Committee, which worked for the restoration of Poland after the First World War, of the American Red Cross Mission to Poland, documents pertaining to the numerous charitable and fraternal organizations in which he participated, and his medical and honorary certificates, historical photographs, medals, books, art and paintings.

This is an opportune moment for the publication of complete inventory of the Dr. Francis E. Fronczak Collection. This prominent Buffalo physician was a social activist on an international scale. Dr. Fronczak introduced in his city the latest medical practices, fought for social justice, and became acknowledged as leader of Polonia. His documents have formed the nucleus of the Polish local history collection, housed in the Fronczak Room and named in his honor. A number of researchers have published from its sources. Libraries are very different today from a few years ago – and the relationship of researchers to their library has changed. In the past few years Butler Library has taken gigantic leaps in advancing the latest computer technology to its patrons. Accessibility has become the benchmark for researchers and scholars, and is now coming into service for special collections.

I am in debt to Sister Martin Joseph Jones who initially organized the Fronczak Collection and introduced me to it.
